Sewing Instructions

1. Orient the two G pieces so that they are taller than they are wide. Use the A pieces and two of the B pieces to snowball two corners of each of the G pieces as shown in the diagram. (Be careful with the orientations.)
2. Orient the two H pieces so that they are wider than they are tall. Use the remaining B pieces and the C and D pieces to snowball the H pieces as shown in the diagram. (Be careful with the orientations.)
3. Sew together the two left wing pieces. Sew together the two right wing pieces.
4. Sew together the E, I, and F pieces as shown in the diagram.
5. Sew the left and right wing units from step 3 to the body unit from step 4.

Suggestion: Consider pressing your seams open, especially where snowballed pieces meet each other or the body piece. Having the seams pressed open will make it easier to match the seams.

Note: Measure your completed block. If it is more than ⅛" undersized, please try to rework to correct the size. If the block is slightly oversized, please do not trim. (It will be trimmed as needed at the next step.)
