Quilt camps are typically held three or four times each year. Each camp is typically held on a Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. Camp attendees must be SSQG members, and the cost is $10 per day for each day attended. The Guild Treasurer may attend one day at no charge, because he or she spends much of one day collecting attendance money.

Hosts are required for each quilt camp. Typically, two members work together to act as hosts. The hosts will be recruited by the Quilt Camp Coordinator, and the hosts do not have to pay to attend the camp. If a group larger than two serve as hosts, only two of the group can attend at no charge.

The Guild occasionally holds Quilt Shows. When a Quilt Show is planned, a Quilt Show Committee will be formed. 10 General Information

10.1 Data and Property Storage

At this time, most of the Guild records and other property are stored at the Senior Center or at the officers' homes.

The Guild library is contained in three rollable locked cabinets that are kept in the storage area off the Wood Room (cafeteria) at the Senior Center. The President and the Librarian have keys to these cabinets.

Guild scrapbooks and other historical data is kept in one locked cabinet in the left storage room across the hall from the Wood Room at the Senior Center. The President and the Historian have the key to this cabinet.

Next to this cabinet are several large plastic totes containing other Guild property, such as quilt tops ready to be quilted, plates and silverware for pot-luck dinners and quilt camp, extension cords, ironing boards, and various other items.

10.2 Digital Data Storage

Most officers keep their own digital files. The Guild needs to determine a way to keep this data somewhere in the cloud so that it is backed up and accessible to other officers, now and in the future. At a minimum, each officer needs to pass on whatever files are necessary to his or her successor.

10.3 Quilt Show Storage

The Guild owns a trailer that contains quilt racks suitable for hanging quilts in a quilt show. This trailer is currently stored at Bryan Street Storage, 526 N. Bryan Ave, Shawnee, OK. The President and the Quilt Show Committee Chairman have the keys to the trailer, as well as the access code to the storage facility.

There are also several totes and buckets containing drapes, hanging hooks and clips, clipboards, and other items used for quilt shows. These items are stored inside the trailer.
